

THE ANARCHISTS' COOKBOOK

At the North Library, they had books by mail from the Salinas Public Library for a while.

They lost the grant? The grant went away.

It got delivered in boxes to the mailroom and I'd pick them up with a cart, go through control, pick up the keys and the alarm, then two fences on the yard, then drag the cart to the library.

This particular day, there'd been a yard recall and the environs were deserted.

I check the books in and have to laugh: THE ANARCHISTS' COOKBOOK.

I sent it back with the returns.

The library patron who's ordered the book, a lifer, into EKANKAR, soul travel.

Said he'd learned the practice in solitary.

Never heard anything about the book.

Patron never asked about it.

No visit from the Security Squad.

It was a done deal.
